SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 24, 2013—Mortgage document preparation vendor International Document Services, Inc. (IDS), has been named a finalist for Mortgage Technology's 2013 Lenders' Choice Award. IDS was the winner of the 2012 Lenders' Choice Award.

"We were absolutely blown away to have been nominated for the Lenders' Choice Award last year, much less to have won," said Mark Mackey, executive vice president at IDS. "To be honored for our commitment to customer service two years in a row is truly a validation of the care and effort we put in to ensuring our customers have the most outstanding mortgage document preparation experience possible."

Finalists were voted on by the winners of Mortgage Technology's "11th Annual Top Tech-Savvy Lenders and Servicers" list. Nine of IDS's customers were recognized for their excellence in technology adoption and usage on this year's list.

Published online and as a supplement in the Aug. 19, 2013 issue of Mortgage Technology's sister publication National Mortgage News, the list, "commends mortgage companies that use technology to improve processes, provide exceptional customer service and increase business."

"Technological excellence is a moving target that IDS constantly strives to achieve," Mackey said. "As such, we're extremely proud that so many IDS customers have been recognized by Mortgage Technology for their efforts to hit this same target and congratulate them on their efforts."

In addition to recognizing this year's "Top Tech-Savvy Lenders and Servicers," the Lenders' Choice Award winner will be announced in October during the 2013 Mortgage Technology Awards ceremony in Washington, D.C. in conjunction with the 100th Annual Mortgage Bankers Association Convention & Expo.
